

How do I find ebooks?

You can find most ebooks by searching iDiscover:

www.idiscover.cam.ac.uk

Search by title or keyword and then click on 'ebook' on the right side of the screen under 'Format'.

Alternatively the Casimir Lewy Library's website has links to philosophy ebook collections:

www.phil.cam.ac.uk/library/ebooks

NOTE: Not all ebook collections will show up on iDiscover. For details of these see: www.lib.cam.ac.uk/ebooks

Philosophy Reference

Useful online encyclopedia and dictionaries for philosophy are:

Routledge Encyclopedia of Philosophy

www.rep.routledge.com

Stanford Encyclopedia of Philosophy

<http://plato.stanford.edu>

Oxford Reference Online

www.oxfordreference.com

Particularly useful are The Oxford Companion to Philosophy Online and The Oxford Dictionary of Philosophy Online.

Ebook Collections

Oxford Scholarship Online

www.oxfordscholarship.com

This large ebook collection covers selected modern texts published by Oxford University Press.

Cambridge Core

www.cambridge.org/core

Cambridge University Press ebooks including the Cambridge Companions to Philosophy.

Intelex: Past Masters

<http://pm.nlx.com>

A small number of titles available so far, including the works of Wittgenstein, Hume, Hegel, Nietzsche and Sidgwick.

Early Modern Texts

www.earlymoderntexts.com

Classic texts of early modern and 19th century philosophy updated and annotated by philosopher, Jonathan Bennett.

ALEX

<http://infomotions.com/alex>

A freely available collection of classic works particularly works of ancient philosophy.

Access off campus

Most ebooks can be accessed off-campus by using your Raven login. Tips and instructions for accessing individual ebook collections are available from:

www.lib.cam.ac.uk/ebooks/access.html

Downloading ebooks

Chapters from some ebook collections can be downloaded in PDF format to an ereader, subject to copyright (normally 5% or 1 chapter from a book). This includes Cambridge Books Online and Oxford Scholarship Online.

All ebooks from the Dawsonera platform and some ebooks from the MyiLibrary platform can also be downloaded. Further information is provided from:

www.lib.cam.ac.uk/ebooks/mobile.html